Message From Y. B. Datuk Abang Johari B. Tun Abang Haji Openg, Minister For Industrial Development

I wish to take this opportunity to congratulate the Rotary Club of Kuching Central in conjunction with the Installation Night for its 7th President.

I believe since its existence in Sarawak for more than 50 years, the Rotary Club has played a significant role in the promotion of positive values such as mutual-respect, brotherhood and goodwill in our society. In fact, its role is assuming greater importance in line with the efforts of the Government to develop and nurture a Caring Society in the country. As such, I hope the Club members will continue to pursue with greater vigour and determination its ideals and objectives to complement the Government's efforts.

While we are on the threshold of achieving the status of a newly-industrialised country, we should not at the same time forsake our positive values and traditions. Otherwise, we would become a society which, although wealthy and deemed as 'developed', is overwhelmed by moral decadence, individualistic and self-centred traits as has happened to some so-called developed nations.

Last but not least, I wish the new President of the Club and its new team of committee members all the best in the challenging tasks ahead of continuing with the good and commendable works of the predecessors.

Thank you.

Datuk Abang Haji Johari B. Tun Abang Haji Openg

To the Club Officers, Committee Members and Rotarians in District 3310

Dear Friends:

It is a pleasure to extend to you my sincere congratulations and good wishes on your club's installation of officers for the 1992-93 Rotary year. The work of Rotary is not done solely by the R.I. President, the board of directors or all of the international committee members. The real work is performed in the 25,000 clubs by hundreds of thousands of Rotarians around the world, performing tasks of service in so many ways. Your past officers and committee members have laid the foundation for the future, and I thank them.

Your new officers will not only contine building this foundation, but will also strengthen it. My greatest hope is that all of you will conduct a balanced and active program in all four avenues of service. I urge you to experience the joy and satisfaction of serving others. Not only will this bring great happiness into your life but I can guarantee that your Rotary experience will be more rewarding than ever.

May you enjoy this special occasion as you set the path for a successful and rewarding year of service, and remember that REAL HAPPINESS IS HELPING OTHERS.

Dear President Elect D. L. Loa.

I offer my heartiest congratulations to you and your incoming Board on the occasion of your installation as the new Club leaders.

He declared his intention to encourage Rotarians all over the world to make their personal involvement in service a more regular occurrence. I therefore urge you to take heed of our leader's call and respond with a Club plan which will involve all your members in an active program of service.

Your Club has had a commendable record of performance in the past and I am confident that we can depend on you to surpass yourselves during the Rotary Year 1992/93.

Message From Rtn. Odita Ibrahim President 1991-1992

My year as the President of the Rotary Club of Kuching Central have just ended on 30th June 1992. Although my term of presidency has ended, like the rest of my team mate, the Rotary spirit within us remain and continue forever. The past year was truly a year of "Looking beyond ourselves" in term of the project undertaken by our club. I am very optimistic that my past experience would help to motivate the club and enhance the good deeds of Rotary for many years to come.

I would like to express my sincere appreciation to all my Board members, Rotarians and their Anns for giving their untiring support to me in carrying out our club activities for the past one year. The fellowship that we had definitely broaden our horizon.

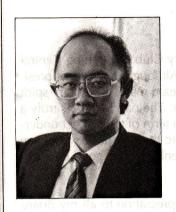

Despite poor growth in membership during my term of office, it is heartening to see that the club did carry out its ambitious projects and activities as enthusiastic as could be. This obviously reflects the tremendous commitment of all the Rotarians and their Anns in promoting the good deeds of Rotary and its ideals of fellowship and service to humanity.

My congratulation and best wishes to the in-coming President Loa Djin Liang and his Board members. It is our hope that there will be more exciting activities and a greater growth for the club in the coming Rotary year.

Yours in Rotary service,

Platosku

Odita bin Ibrahim

Message From LOA DJIN LIANG In-Coming-President (1992/1993)

It is said that 'No Man is an Island'. Rotary is living proof of this truth. Since its founding on 23rd February 1905 in Chicago, USA Rotary, the first 'service' organization, had become a full fledged world movement of considerable strength comprising of 1.14 million members in 25,841 clubs in 181 countries, capable of causing change on a global scale as in 'Polio Plus' which seeks to eradicate the scourge of polio and 'Preserve Planet Earth' which seeks to instill an awareness of our fragile ecosystem and the imperative need to green the Earth. Rotary — a dynamic living channel where men and women of goodwill from all nations join hands to do service to others in sincere wholehearted effort to make this world a better place.

We of Kuching Central are proud to be part of the Rotary movement. We are confident, as we know that the pursuit of a good cause gives satisfaction in itself. In the words of the theme for this year, 'Real Happiness Is Helping Others'.

I congratulate President Odita Ibrahim for a most successful year. Due to his exemplary efforts and leadership we had for the past year, in all ways, looked beyond ourselves.

To my Board of Directors and fellow Rotarians let us now, in Rotary spirit, pledge ourselves to a fruitful and successful Rotary year.

Sincerely

DC Loe,

LOA DJIN LIANG President 1992/1993

He is currently president-elect of Rotary International.

August 1991.

What first attracted you to Rotary? Was it just to enjoy the fellowship or to become part of something significant in your community? Did you think it would be an opportunity to put new meaning in your life? Think for a moment about the members of your Rotary club-people with whom you are proud to associate. Have you observed these Rotary members actually becoming Rotarians? What is it that makes Rotarians special men and women? Why do Rotarians seem to find a special kind of happiness and deep satisfaction in their lives?

The search for individual joy, satisfaction, and happiness is a universal goal. True Rotarians are men and women who have discovered the great satisfaction and enduring rewards in life that come from serving and helping others.

In a profound way, often unspoken, Rotarians recognize that among the happiest people in the world are those who find a cause or need so compelling that they are willing to give a major portion of lives to fulfill that purpose. Rotarians discover that REAL HAPPINESS IS HELPING OTHERS.

The essence of Rotary's Ideal of Service is to help others willingly and without any thought of personal return or benefit. The surprising thing is that many of our own greatest moments of happiness are found in giving freely of our time, effort, and financial resources to benefit other people or for purposes which will last long after our earthly work is completed.

How many times has your life been enriched by merely reaching out in kindness to those in need? How many of your closest friendships have grown when you work side by side in serving others? Isn't it amazing what a unique feeling of satisfaction comes to us when we respond to a real call for help? Rotarians share a tremendous secret and a universal truth: that real happiness-perhaps the deepest of human longings - may be found most easily by helping others.

Cliff Dochterman

President of Rotary International 1992/1993

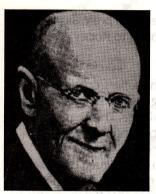

Will Rotary Service bring real happiness into your life?

- Rotarians find real happiness by helping others through their business and professional lives.
 Our vocational skills are among the most important resources we bring to Rotary. This year, will you apply the Rotary Ideal of Service within your vocation?
- Rotarians find real happiness by helping others in their community who suffer from deprivation, unhealthy conditions, or circumstances which undermine their dignity. Sometimes the best possibilities for significant service are in our own neighbourhood or village. This year, will your club undertake projects to improve the human conditions in your community?
- Rotarians find real happiness by helping others in distant lands who are plagued by proverty, hunger, illness, and hopelessness. These are people we may never meet, but whose lives we have the opportunity to touch. This year, will your club and district sponsor Rotary programs to alleviate suffering, enhance the quality of life, and foster peace and goodwill someplace in the world?
- Rotarians find real happiness through friendships created and strengthened while helping others. In fact, the secret of Rotary's enduring appeal is the longing of men and women in every land to work together at tasks that can truly change the world around us. This year, will your circle of Rotary friendships expand within your club and around the world as you personally participate in Rotary service by helping others?

The most rewarding tasks are frequently found in modest, humble settings, being done by men and women of noble character, who share their lives and resources for a cause which they believe is good. They have found real happiness because their actions benefit both "givers" and "receivers." Such an opportunity is what Rotary-offers every member-because Rotarians discover that REAL HAPPINESS IS HELPING OTHERS.

COTATI

Founder of Rotary

THE MAN WHO STARTED IT ALL...

PAUL PERCY HARRIS was the founder of Rotary. He was born in Racine, Wisconsin, USA on April, 19, 1868. He received the Bachelor of Physical Culture and LL. B. degrees from the University of Vermont and the LL. B. degree from the University of Iowa.

He received an honorary PH. D., in 1933 from the University of Vermont. The Boy Scouts of America gave him the Silver Buffalo Award, and he was decorated by the governments of Brazil, Chile, Dominican, Ecuador, France and Peru.

He worked as a newspaper reporter, a business college teacher, a stock company actor and as a cowboy. He travelled as a salesman for a marble and granite concern in the US and Europe. These varied experiences broadened his vision and were of material assistance in the early extension of Rotary.

In 1896, Paul Harris went to Chicago to practice law.

In 1900, after dinner with a lawyer in a residential section of Chicago, Paul Harris was impressed by the fact that his friend stopped at several stores and shops in the neighbourhood and introduced him to the proprietors, who were his friends.

This experience caused him to wonder why he could not make social friends out of at least some of his law clients and he resolved to organise a club which would band together a group of representative business and professional men in friendship and fellowship.

By 1905, he had formulated a definite philosophy of business relations. Talking it over with three of his law clients - Silvester Schiele, a coal merchant, Gustavus Loehr, a mining engineer, and Hiram Shorey, a merchant tailor-he decided to organise with them the club which he had been planning since 1900.

On Feb. 23, 1905, they held the first club meeting, and the nucleus was formed for the thousands of Rotary Clubs which were later organised throughout the world.

Paul Harris named the new club "Rotary" because the members met in rotation in their various places of business. This met with general approval and club membership grew rapidly.

Almost every member had come to Chicago from a small town and in the Rotary Club they found an opportunity for the intimate acquaintanceship of their boyhood days. When Paul Harris became president of the club in its third year, he strove to extend Rotary to other cities because he was convinced that the Rotary Club could be developed into an important service movement.

The second Rotary Club was founded in San Francisco in 1908. Other clubs were organised until, in 1910, when there were 16 clubs, it was decided that they should be united into an organisation which would extend the movement to other cities and serve as a clearing house for the exchange of ideas among the clubs.

Representatives from the clubs met in Chicago in August 1910 and organised the National Association of Rotary Clubs. When clubs were formed in Canada and Britain, the name was shortened to Rotary International.

Paul Harris was the first president of the National Association and the first president of Rotary International.

What is §

Rotary

.... "The aim was a fellowship of businessmen that would transcend trade and bring persons of diverse interest together on common ground. This is the genius of Rotary and the service club idea".....

.... "One feature that seems to me of the highest importance in the workings of Rotary is the autonomy, the selfhood, the integrity of the individual club. For all that far-flung internationality that has evolved, the real unit remains the club.... A direct tie between each member and a local club is basic..... A member cannot transfer, if he leaves town he leaves Rotary. He may be duly elected to become a member of a club in the town to which he has moved... but if so he starts all over"....

....."One man from each vocation or profession is still the basis of Rotary Club membership as introduced by Paul Harris – the founder – 1905. Out of this guaranteed diversity, which Rotary deems so vital that it chooses and invites members instead of permitting applications"....

...."The club is the medium by which the programme of Rotary is promoted and the object of Rotary is attained... The first policy of Rotary International is the advancement of the Object of Rotary by the individual Rotarian".....

....."Emphasis on the club and its multifarious affairs lead to making the weekly meeting and the attendance upon it a ritual. Four consecutive absences and you are out".....

..... "To begin with, the meetings start on time; more important they end on time and at an hour one can count on.... Speeches are short pointedly so... one speaker was given a cake of ice and told he could speak as long as he could hold it!.... We do know that something takes place when men break bread ceremonially... the luncheon, or dinner (or in a few clubs, the breakfast or tea) is an essential ingredient of the weekly Rotary gathering"....

...."The name 'Rotary' was adopted because in the early days meetings were held in rotation at the offices and stores of members. The emblem is the wheel and it denotes rotarian. It is a cogwheel and officially is not given any symbolic significance, but it does stand for mobility. The wheel does represent one of man's first technological devices and it bespeaks the movement of a man and ideas from place to place in rapid order"......

..... "Rotary grows in two way: by bringing new members into existing Rotary Club or by creating new clubs.... Rotary's growth did not just happen, any more than it happens in a business, a religion or in any organisation. There had to be an objective and a plan. Paul Harris set that objective at Rotary's first convention held in 1910, when he said that it was his belief that sooner or later, the Rotary Club idea would spread throughout the land. There were many who doubted, bu there were even more who accepted the challenge......

......"Thus Rotary extends itself and its purpose, all of its activities growing out of the service movement which it launched. It is not alone but highly representative – singular, if not unique".

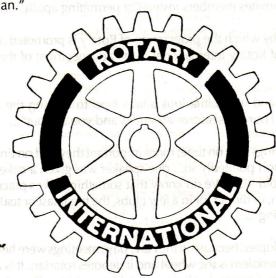

There are trends within Rotary too, and they may offer some guidance to those who would essay to guess the future. One is attentiveness to Youth as a new source of power"......

"Rotary was founded to make men less lonely and more useful!.... The meeting and eating together the talking and listening, the laughing and learning together – this shared experience does something to each Rotarian – something significant and stimulating in his life and in the life of others, inside and outside his club...... Rotarians are realistic enough to know that Rotary is not the key to all doors, and not the answer to all problems... But the Rotary spirit of friendly service is tangible and intangible, part of our hopes and plans for better world."

What is Rotary in conclusion?

In the home it is kindness.. In business it is honestly. In society it is courtesy; In play it is fairness; In the Club it is co-operation and Fellowship. In the Community it is service. In International Relations it is sympathetic understanding and goodwill. Towards the fortunate it is congratulations; towards the unfortunate it is compassion; towards the weak it is help, towards the penitent it is forgiveness, and towards God, it is reverence and love. Rotary is the talents of experts working in harmony for the betterment of mankind."

Excerpts form "The Rotarian."

The Rotary Emblem

Rotary's early emblem was a simple wagon wheel (in motion with dust) representing "civilization and movement." It was designed in 1905 by Montague M. Bear, member of the Chicago Club, who was an engraver, and most of the early clubs adopted the wheel in one form or another. Eventually, in 1922, authority was given to create and preserve an emblem for the exclusive use of all Rotarians.

Accordingly in 1923, the present gear wheel with 24 cogs and six spokes was adopted, and a keyway added to signify that the wheel was a "worker and not an idler". An official description of the emblem was adopted at the 1929 Convention in Dallas, Texas, U.S.A. Royal blue and gold were chosen as the official Rotary colors, and the flag of Rotary was designated as a white field with the Rotary wheel emblazoned on its center. The emblem, worn as a lapel button, now identifies Rotarians around the world.

ORIGIN OF THE CLUB

The first Rotary Club came into existanece on 23rd February 1905 in Chicago, Illinois, U.S.A. The founder was Paul P. Harris whose ambition it was to bring together men of different business and professions to help build goodwill and peace in the world.

From this original Club mooted by Harris, the movement spread rapidly first in the U.S.A. and then worldwide. It soon became an organisation of business and professional men united worldwide. Its aims was to provide humanitarian service, encourage high ethical standards in all vocations and help build goodwill and peace in the world.

It was called ROTARY because the Club met in rotation at each member's place of business. As the membership grew, this was found to be inconvenient so Rotarians began gathering for lunch. As something more than comradership was needed to keep the club going, Rotarians decided whole-heartedly to devote themselves to service to the community. This is exemplified by the Rotary motto "SERVICE ABOVE SELF." Today so popular is the Rotary movement that there are nearly 1.14 million Rotarians in 181 countries belonging to more than 25,841 Rotary Clubs.

One can join a Rotary Club by invitation only. To ensure that as wide as possible a cross-section of the community is represented a classification system is followed to ensure that one representative of each business, profession or institution is represented. Membership is open only to adult male persons of good character and good business or professional reputation.

Rotary came to Malaysia on 4th December, 1929 when the first club in Seremban was given its charter. Rotary clubs of Kuala Lumpur and Ipoh were also formed the same year.

Object of Rotary

The object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worth enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

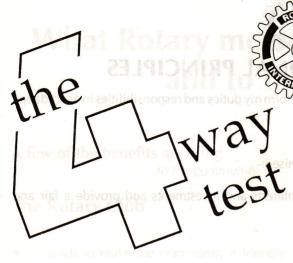

can gathering for luns it. As something more than comfodership was u

First. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;

Second. High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society;

Third. The application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian to his personal, business and community life;

Fourth. The advancement of international understanding, good will, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service.

- . Is it the TRUTH?
- 2. Is it FAIR to all concerned?
- 3. Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIP?
- 4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

DECLARATION OF ROTARIANS IN BUSINESSES AND PROFESSIONS

As a Rotarian engaged in a business or profession, I am expected to:-

- 1. Consider my vocation to be another opportunity to serve;
- 2. Be faithful to the letter and to the spirit of the ethical codes of my vocation, to the laws of my country, and to the highest ethical standards in my chosen vocation.
- 3. Do all in my power to dignify my vocation and to promote the highest ethical standards in my chosen vocation;
- 4. Be fair to my employer, employees, associates, competitors, customers, the public and all those with whom I have a business or professional relationship;
- 5. Recognize the honor and respect due to all occupations which are useful to society;
- 6. Offer my vocational talents: to provide opportunities for young people, to work for the relief of the special needs of others, and to improve the quality of life in my community;
- Adhere to honesty in my advertising and in all representations to the public concerning my business or profession;
- 8. Neither seek from nor grant to a fellow Rotarian a privilege or advantage not normally accorded others in a business or professional relationship.

ROTARY VOCATIONAL PRINCIPLES

I BELIEVE that the objectives of my vocation are to perform my duties and responsibilities in accordance with the following principles:-

1. Responsibilities

Four areas of responsibility are generally recognised:-

(a) To shareholders/partners/principals

To protect shareholders'/partners'/principals/ interests and investments and provide a fair and reasonable return.

(b) To Employees

To provide, promote and encourage:-

- (1) good and safe conditions of work;
- (2) good and competitive terms and conditions of service;
- the mental and physical development and best use of human talent and equal opportunity employment.
- (4) the involvement of employees in the planning and direction of their work.

(c) To customers/clients and the general public

To develop and provide products and services which offer value in terms of price, costs and quality supported by the requisite professional, technological and commercial expertise.

(d) To community and society

To conduct business as responsible members of the community/society, observing applicable laws of the country and giving due regard to safety and environmental standards and societal aspirations. These four areas of responsibility are seen as an inseparable whole.

2. Economic Principles

Profitability and productivity are essential to discharging these responsibilities and staying in business. It is a measure both of efficiency and of the ultimate value that people place on one's products and or services. Without profits and productivity, it would not be possible to fulfil the responsibilities outlined above.

3. Personal Integrity

I must exercise honesty, loyalty and integrity in all aspects of my business; avoid conflicts of interest between my personal and official activities in the conduct of my business. The offer, payment, soliciting and acceptance of bribes in any form and any unprofessional and unfair conduct are unacceptable practices.

4. Welfare

It should be my policy to conduct my activities in such a way as to take foremost account of the health and safety of others, and to give proper regard to the safety and conservation of the environment.

5. Service to the Community

The most important contribution that I can make to the social and material progress of a country is in performing my basic activities as efficiently as possible. In addition, the need is recognised to take a constructive interest in societal matters which may not be directly related to my business. I must endeacour to take advantage of the opportunities acailable for me to be involved in community, educational and youth programmes.
